

Name: Marco Luigi

Surname: Lomazzi

Role: Stadium Operations Director & Disability Access Officer

Place of birth: Milan, Italy

Born in Milan on November 27, 1982, Marco Lomazzi is the Stadium Operations Director & Disability Access Officer of AC Milan.

He graduated in Business Administration and Management at Bocconi University of Milan in 2006. In 2016 he obtained the UEFA Certificate in Football Management after attending the course organized by UEFA and the Université de Lausanne, Switzerland.

Marco has worked for AC Milan since 2006, the year in which he joined the management of the Club's stadium, a division for which he is still responsible.

From 2015 to 2016 he was part of the Board of Directors of the joint venture M-I Stadio S.r.l., a company in which he currently holds the role of Chief Executive Office.

He was a member of the Steering Committee - LOC for the organization of the 2016 UEFA Champions League final in Milan.

He is currently one of the members of the European Disability Access Officer Network Group within the CAFE (Center for Access To Football in Europe, the organization that is UEFA's consultant on the inclusion and accessibility of stadiums) which aims to develop common strategies at European level in order to promote the role of the Disability Access Officer.