

Summer school Worldwide: U21

U21 is a network of universities worldwide meant to support their students' development as social and global change-makers. As member of the network, per academic year, the University of Amsterdam offers selected students 2000 EUR scholarships for attending either a physical or virtual summer or winter programme at one of the member universities.

The applications are open from Monday 5 February – Monday 4 March.23:59 CEST

Responsibility of the student

- Apply for U21 at the UvA and deliver required documentation in time
- Apply to the host institution separately within their deadline and acquire required documentation
- Organize travel logistics including visa arrangements, vaccinations, and budgeting for food expenses
- Represent UvA with integrity and professionalism during the programme
- Comply with the scholarship requirements, all in the effect of promoting the U21 programme at UvA

Responsibility of the Office of International Student Affairs

- Inform students of scholarship application, administration and the grant requirements
- Administer scholarship (one installment before mobility and one after)
- Function as point of contact from the UvA when student is abroad
- Prepare student through pre-departure gathering: logistic, cultural, social preparations, Welcome Back Event
