LOCATION

The Redwood (Brewers Fayre) is prominently located on Talke Road (A34) at Red Street, approximately 2 miles north-west of Newcastle-under-Lyme town centre.

The property benefits from excellent road connectivity, with the A500 providing direct links to Junctions 15 and 16 of the M6 motorway, offering convenient access across Staffordshire and the wider North West region.

The surrounding area benefits from a well-established mix of residential housing, commercial occupiers and leisure amenities. Nearby attractions include Affinity Staffordshire Outlet Shopping Centre, the popular market town of Kidsgrove and a range of local retail and service businesses serving the wider catchment population.

The site further benefits from its position adjacent to the Premier Inn Newcastle-under-Lyme North hotel, which generates regular customer footfall throughout the week from both business and leisure visitors.

DESCRIPTION

The property comprises a substantial detached Brewers Fayre public house and family restaurant arranged over a large 2 storey site, constructed in a traditional style with pitched roofs and extensive glazed frontages.

The building provides a spacious customer trading area with a combination of bar, dining and family seating sections designed to cater for both food-led and wet-led trade.

The property comprises a purpose-built, family pub and restaurant, designed to accommodate high-volume food-led trading. The venue offers a welcoming, casual dining environment catering to families, local customers, and hotel guests.
