

TSSA

RULE BOOK

PREFACE

The Transport Salaried Staffs' Association is a trade union with a long and proud history.

It was founded in Sheffield on 9 May 1897 as the National Association of General Railway Clerks. The first delegate conference was held in 1898, when the name was changed to the Railway Clerks Association.

In 1951, to meet the changing face of the union and reflect its increasing involvement outside the railway industry, the name was again changed to the Transport Salaried Staffs' Association.

Today, our members work for a wide range of transport, engineering and travel trade companies, and specialised organisations providing support to these companies, throughout the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland.

Like every other trade union and voluntary organisation, TSSA has rules which lay down how it is managed and regulated.

These rules have been agreed by the members for the members, and set out rights, protection and entitlements for all the Association's members. These Rules set out, on sound democratic principles, how the officers of TSSA are elected and how TSSA decides its policies and procedures.

Only via Annual Conference, at which every Branch has the right to be represented, can the Association's Rules be amended.

All members are encouraged to play an active part in the affairs of TSSA, whether through being involved in workplace organising activities or via the democratic structures of the union.

If any members have any queries or comments on this revised Rule Book, they should be forwarded to Head Office.

A SOG shall not, without the sanction of the Executive Committee, affiliate to, or make donations to, any organisation to which TSSA is not affiliated nationally, save as provided in Rule 9.4.6.

(7) If any member alleges that he is aggrieved by a breach of any of these rules for the political fund, being a rule or rules made pursuant to section 82 of the 1992 Act, he may complain to the Certification Officer, and the Certification Officer, after making such enquiries as he thinks fit and after giving the complainant and the Association an opportunity of being heard, may, if he considers that such a breach has been committed, make such order for remedying the breach as he thinks just in the circumstances. Any such order of the Certification Officer may, subject to the right of appeal provided by section 95 of the 1992 Act, be enforced in the manner provided for in section 82(4) of the 1992 Act.

For the purpose of enabling each member of the Association to know, in respect of any such periodical contribution, what portion, if any, of the sum payable is a contribution to the Political Fund of the Association, it is hereby provided that 3.5% of the relevant periodical contribution rate for the time being is contributed to the Political Fund of the Association, and that any member who is exempt as aforesaid shall be relieved from the payment of the said portion and shall pay the remainder of such contribution only.

(b) In this Rule the terms 'strike' and 'industrial action' shall have the same meaning as in the Industrial Relations Act 1990 of the Republic of Ireland.

(c) TSSA shall not organise, participate in, sanction or support a strike or other industrial action without a secret ballot, entitlement to vote in which shall be accorded equally to all members whom it is reasonable at the time of the ballot to believe will be called upon to engage in the strike or industrial action.

(e) The Irish Committee following consultation with the Executive Committee shall have full discretion in relation to organising, participating in, sanctioning or supporting a strike or other industrial action notwithstanding that the majority of those voting in the ballot, including an aggregate ballot referred to in paragraph (f) of this Rule, favours such strike or industrial action.

(f) The Irish Committee shall not organise, participate in, sanction or support a strike or other industrial action against the wishes of a majority of TSSA's members voting in a secret ballot, except where, in the case of a ballot by more than one trade union, an aggregate majority of all the votes cast favours such strike or other industrial action.

(g) Where the outcome of a secret ballot conducted by TSSA or, in the case of ballots conducted by TSSA and any number of other trade unions which are affiliated to the Irish Congress of Trade Unions, an aggregate majority of all the votes cast, is in favour of supporting a strike organised by another trade union, a decision to take such supportive action shall not be implemented by TSSA without the sanction of the Irish Congress of Trade Unions.

(h) As soon as practicable after the conduct of a secret ballot TSSA shall take reasonable steps to make known to the members of TSSA entitled to vote in the ballot

(j) All authorised strike or other industrial action shall be conducted under the supervision of the General Secretary.
