A note from the Publisher

Alison Ruane
Managing Director,
Macmillan Children's Books

Hello and welcome,

I am delighted to introduce you to our 2026 publishing programme. This is a landmark year for books, as the government, in association with major charities, and publisher partners including Pan Macmillan, launches the National Year of Reading – a campaign to tackle the decline of reading for enjoyment in children, young people and adults.

As a publisher of children's and YA books, we are committed to creating fun, accessible, informative and engaging books that represent the lives, families and communities of all children with our authors and illustrators. You'll see we have a fantastic year of publishing ahead, from established brands and partnerships to the very best new talent.

We are thrilled to announce that we will be returning to the Deep Dark Wood in September, with the first new Gruffalo picture book in over twenty years from Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler. The launch of this new story is highly anticipated by multi-generational fans, and will also drive a nationwide reading and story campaign with a major charitable element. The book has all the hallmarks of a future classic, and we can't wait to share the title and cover with you in the coming months. We have a wide range of display materials available for bookshops, schools and libraries to join us in celebrating this milestone.

Excitingly, we have another new picture book from Julia Donaldson this year: The Magic Feather – a rhyming fairy tale adventure about magic, nature and looking after the environment, gorgeously illustrated by Catherine Rayner. Sticking with picture books, Boots and Cats by Hazel Gardner and Fred Blunt is a bold, wacky and brilliantly funny caper inspired by the rhythms of beatboxing that tickles the imagination, reminding us all to find the fun in reading aloud – and more importantly, to do it together!

Graphic novels continue to increase in popularity year on year, offering a fun and accessible reading experience for children. We are committed to discovering new talent in this space, and couldn't be more excited to launch Tiny Hercules into the world, a debut full-colour graphic novel series packed full of laughs, featuring a jam-jar-sized Tiny Hercules from comic book co-creators Jon Lock and Nich Angell.

John Patrick Green's InvestiGators series continues to go from strength to strength and we are happy to say that Mango and Brash will be back on the case in InvestiGators: Weather or Not this year. Liz Pichon's colourful and joyful graphic novel series also continues with The Mubbles: The Good, The Bad and The Perky in hardback, plus the paperbacks of books one and two.

Our middle-grade list is packed with adventure: award-winning Welsh author, Caryl (C.M) Lewis returns this spring with Quill and the Last Generation, a thrilling new epic fantasy adventure inspired by Welsh mythology, and bestseller Rob Biddulph reimagines the legend of the werewolf in the first in a new highly illustrated series, The Moonhaven Chronicles: The Last Wolf. Louise Austin has written the first in a brilliantly funny, fully illustrated series about a reluctant vampire, Alex Abbott is [Un]Dead, and more laughs are to be expected in The Common Criminals' Club: Death Before Detention by Alison Weatherby, a hilarious murder mystery set in an Irish boarding school.

Early years expert Camilla Reid returns with two new books illustrated by Kate Hindley. Firstly, a brand-new adventure series featuring a cute cat and dog duo for little readers, Nell and Beany: The Big Fish, is a charming, action-packed adventure for toddlers with push, pull and slide mechanisms. For preschoolers, I Am Ready for School is a picture book that will excite and reassure children as they prepare for their first days of school.

Finally, get ready to launch your curiosity with a range of brilliant titles publishing under our new non-fiction imprint, Rocket Fox. You can find the full list on page 130, but I want to highlight the two launch titles. Mixed: Explore and Celebrate Your Mixed-Race Identity by podcaster Emma Slade Edmondson is a fantastic guide for all mixed-race children to help them explore and celebrate their identity, with contributions from a wide range of inspirational mixed-race people. Find Your Drive is the first book from F3 race driver and double amputee Billy Monger. In this incredibly inspirational book, Billy inspires children to challenge themselves and build resilience.

In the back of this catalogue, you will find a list of books that are part of the Accelerated Reading scheme by Renaissance. This is a fantastic resource to identify appropriate books to recommend based on a child's reading ability. We also have our Key Themes section, where themed and seasonal titles are grouped together, should you have a particular topic or interest in mind.

I hope that you enjoy finding out more about these brilliant new titles in the highlights section of this catalogue and that in browsing our wonderful backlist you also find something to inspire and engage readers of all ages.

Welcome to The Celestial, where everything is an illusion. This ship is powered by magical servants, and its wealthy guests have a first-class ticket to amusements out at sea. But amongst all the spectacle, one thing is for sure: Crew or Guest, no one is safe in violent waters. With a brilliant locked room concept containing the world to a vessel, this is a brilliant escapist YA fantasy with a wicked magic system.

THE FARAWAY INN

Sarah Beth Durst

The perfect YA fantasy to get cosy with this spring from the New York Times-bestselling author of The Spellshop.

Reeling from a bad break up, sixteen-year-old Calisa jumps at the chance to help her eccentric great-aunt run her remote B&B for the summer. She's expecting a welcoming getaway with bags of charm. But what she finds is a rundown property, an aunt who doesn't want to admit she needs help and a cute groundkeeper's son. After a while, Calisa starts to think there's something strange about the B&B and its residents. Something almost... otherworldly.

LOVE, GODS AND SINNERS

Camille Chong

Set in an alternate contemporary world, where descendants of ancient magical clans don secret identities and do battle on the streets of Singapore, this is an action-packed enemies-to-lovers urban fantasy with a sizzling rivals-to-lovers romance at its heart.

Two teens, descended from gods, must choose between love and loyalty in Camille Chong's debut novel; perfect for anyone who loved the genre-twist of Iron Widow.

RUNAWAY ROAD

Sue Divin

Ezra is 16. He's no stranger to crossing the line, but this time it's really bad - and there's no going back. His only hope of escape is to cross another line, the Northern Irish border, but that will mean leaving behind the only thing that really matters, his little sister, Evie.

Set in Northern Ireland, Carnegie award-winner Sue Divin explores family ties, social justice, teen romance and the reality of growing up in care in this unforgettably moving and hopeful novel.

ORGANISING AUTHOR AND ILLUSTRATOR VISITS

Having an author or illustrator come to visit your school or library is a great way to bring books to life for children. You can write to any of the authors and illustrators published by Macmillan Children's Books c/o Children's Publicity Department.

Author visits require thorough planning, so you will need to contact us about your chosen author well in advance. Your letter should include a few dates for the author to select from, the ages of children attending and the type of event you would like to have.

A book makes a great souvenir of the day and authors are happy to sign them after the event has finished. Contact your usual supplier to arrange books for sale at the event and circulate a note to parents in advance so that that children can bring in some money.
