MACMILLAN CHILDREN'S BOOKS

INTRODUCING
THE SLEEPLESS
BY JEN WILLIAMS
HER TOUCH IS POISON TO EVERYONE BUT HIM

From FIRST INK

Dear Publishers,

As the new Managing Director of Macmillan Children's Books, I am proud to introduce you to our new Autumn Rights Guide, which features a vibrant and varied portfolio of exceptional children's books for all ages.

We have taken a new approach to our guides this autumn. Our non-fiction offering has expanded across all our imprints, so these books now feature in their own stand-alone Non-Fiction guide. Please look out for this, as well as the guide for Priddy Books too.

Our new imprint, First Ink, is an audience-first list that will publish the best in YA and crossover fiction. It is the place to discover coming-of-age stories for any age, including The Sleepless by Jen Williams: an epic gods-and-monsters romantasy, and Love, Gods and Sinners by Camille Chong: a fast-paced Sapphic urban fantasy.

Frank Cottrell-Boyce has been appointed as the new UK Children's Laureate and we are proud to support him on his mission to improve children's lives. His new novel Blockbusters!, illustrated by Steven Lenton, is a great page-turner, with themes of celebrity and friendship. We are very pleased to be launching M. G. Leonard's Time Keys series with Hunt for the Golden Scarab: a trademark brilliant adventure with added exciting time travel. For younger readers, a highlight is the very funny graphic novel Tiny Hercules by Nich Angell and Jon Lock. Meet the world's smallest, yet mightiest new hero.

Our Macmillan Prize for Illustration gives non-professional illustrators an opportunity to be discovered and we welcome recent winner Becky Colvin with her picture book The Great Green Island. Illustration also leads the way on our Two Hoots list with Mirror Magic board books created by Sharon King-Chai, and an irresistible new heroine, Liliana, is introduced in Liliana the Strong, a picture book written by Quentin Blake and illustrated by Emma Chichester Clark. I am also very pleased we are presenting a new story by Julia Donaldson and illustrated by Sara Ogilvie. Gozzle is the heart-warming story of a gosling who might just think she is a bear and is a classic in the making.

Our Early Years publishing is packed with novelty features that develop imagination, curiosity and motor skills. Camilla Reid introduces us to her fun character, DOT, who loves hide-and-seek and offers young readers surprises throughout her books. Ready Steady Race is fully interactive with easy-to-move counters for fun racing games. On our Campbell list, The Big Book of Robots introduces robots and AI, while Matty & Mo is a new character-led series based on real-life everyday pre-school experiences.

I know that you will enjoy discovering the books here and finding out more from our Rights Team. I am looking forward to meeting with many of you in the coming months, as well as at the Frankfurt Book Fair.

With all best wishes,

Alison Ruane

Elle
McNicoll

WISH YOU WERE HER

Book Lovers meets You've Got Mail
in this enemies-to-lovers romance from bestselling, award-winning author Elle McNicoll.

18-year-old Allegra Brooks has skyrocketed to fame after starring in a hit television show, and all she wants is a normal teenage summer.

Her destination for escape? Lake Pristine and its annual Book Festival, organized by the dedicated but unfriendly senior bookseller, Jonah Thorne.

But in small towns like Lake Pristine, misunderstandings abound, and before long the two are drawn into high-profile hostility that's a far cry from the drama-free holiday Allegra was craving. Thank goodness for her saving grace: the increasingly personal emails she's been sharing with a charming bookseller who is definitely not Jonah Thorne . . .

A romcom about finding the one person who makes you feel yourself when the whole world is watching.

- Perfect for fans of Emily Henry, Sophie Kinsella and Beth Reekles, this is a charming, funny and swoon-worthy romance centring two autistic lead characters
- Elle's star is on the rise: with a major TV series based on her debut novel A Kind of Spark continuing its success with a second season, and a growing international profile

LOVE, GODS & SINNERS

CAMILLE CHONG

- The contemporary setting is richly drawn, the sapphic characters flawed and fun; the book will appeal to adults who like the chemistry of Mr and Mrs Smith and teens who came to Iron Widow for its high-concept adventure
- The book plays with familiar YA tropes like enemies-to-lovers – but has a wonderfully original setting and tone, and is the fresh contemporary fantasy that readers will be craving in a busy romantasy market
- Camille Chong is a Singapore-raised writer whose debut YA novel is a love letter to the teenagers who grew up on overtly white, cis-het stories

TWO TEENS, descended from gods, must choose between love and villainy in Love, Gods and Sinners, a sizzling enemies-to-lovers urban fantasy.

In a glittering, fantastical Singapore, where humans are born with ancient magic into a polarized near-future society, two young research scientists find themselves falling in love. The only problem? They've just been tasked to kill each other . . .

Raven spends her nights (and her magic) carrying out dangerous missions for the maligned Foxes, descendants of the Chinese Nine-Tailed Foxes. But by day, she's simply Harper Leong. A magic-less research intern, Harper is the playful academic rival of the famous Tia Njauw. Tia uses her unique brand of moon magic to protect the city – and she hates Raven.

When Raven is tasked to murder Tia in order to secure the future of the Foxes, the two teens start to understand that the concepts of right and wrong can be just as complicated – and dangerous – as falling in love.
