CELEBRATING TEN YEARS OF CLASSIC WRITING

Welcome to our 10th anniversary Macmillan Collector's Library catalogue

In 2026 we celebrate ten years of Macmillan Collector's Library, or MCL as it is often known. I am extremely proud of all we have achieved since we first launched in 2016. We now have over three hundred books in print spanning novels, non-fiction, children's books, poetry, short story collections, drama, themed anthologies and new for 2026 – a weekly planner. We now publish in multiple different formats in addition to our pocket-sized hardbacks, and we've created numerous series. This catalogue contains just a selection of some of our most popular publishing to give you a sense of that breadth.

Thank you to all you booksellers who stock our books, from Land's End to Kyrgyzstan, from the New York Public Library to the Brontë Parsonage in Yorkshire. Our books are available all over the world; our global reach is extraordinary.

Underpinning all this achievement is my belief that great works of literature need to be preserved and we can do them justice and bring them to a wide and varied readership by publishing them with great care and in beautiful forms. We honour the writing of the past and make it relevant to our present and in a world of rapid innovation, of impatience and quick fixes, I firmly believe it's always worth taking the time to revisit the classics. These are books that survive for a reason because they remain relevant to our lives today.

In our 10th anniversary year, we are publishing a varied and innovative range of books. Highlights include a brand new translation of Thomas Mann's famous novella, Death in Venice, a collection of Classic Weird Stories to appeal to all fans of the supernatural, Sheridan Le Fanu's classic gothic novel, Carmilla, and for Christmas, a gorgeous illustrated edition of The Nutcracker. And to celebrate this special year, in September we launch a brand new pocket-sized paperback series, celebrating the art of the short story from ten famous writers.

Thank you for all your support for us and for bringing our books to a wide and varied readership. A welcome to new customers too!
