As Dublin's longest-running and fiercely independent, family-run hotel we are proud to support Irish producers wherever possible. Head Chef, Shane Doherty, leads our talented kitchen brigade who harness their passion for food and creativity to create well-executed, classic and comforting dishes that will leave you craving more.

Open daily from 12.30pm, the Line Out Bar serves an enticing all-day menu that caters to every thirst and appetite, while the vibrant and inviting ambiance lends itself perfectly to post-dinner drinks and one-for-the-road nightcaps.

Our two restaurant & bar spaces are at your service for delicious breakfasts to fire delegates up for the task at hand, crowd-pleasing all-day menus for restorative breaks and lunches, and lively bar with garden terrace for welcome receptions or post-meeting debriefs.

Whether you're bringing people together from the four corners of Ireland or flying them in from further afield, the hotel's ample accommodation in our thoughtfully designed bedrooms and ease of access from Dublin City Airport ensures it's a straightforward, seamless and stress-free experience for all who attend.

Sustainability

The Sandymount Hotel is incredibly fortunate to be surrounded by some spots of stunning natural beauty. From the flowing River Dodder to the native tree trail through Herbert Park and the invigorating Dublin coastline. It's all been part of our surroundings since we first opened here in Ballsbridge 70 years ago, but we don't take a single part of it for granted.

Growing our independent family business within this much-envied environment has instilled in us a deep commitment to protect the beauty that's right on our doorstep as well as all that lies beyond. We want a greener, cleaner world and this commitment to our planet means making sustainable choices in everything we do.

Just some of our Green Initiatives:

- Over 95% of our lighting has been upgraded to LED
- Modifications throughout the hotel – including the installation of aerator shower heads
- Rainwater is harvested on the hotel's roof for use in the garden
- Dedicated bins are now provided in corridors to make recycling easier for guests and visitors
- We have eliminated single-use toiletries from our guest rooms and replaced them with luxury Rituals® refillable, pump top dispensers
- Our smallest members of 'staff' can be found in the insect hotel in our lovely garden
- Our team regularly participates in clean-up events in the Ballsbridge neighbourhood and along the local Sandymount Strand beach.
