

Report of development dialogue for the Master's programme Environment and Resource Management

To guarantee the quality of the educational programmes at VU Amsterdam, the programmes are assessed once every six years by a panel of external experts. The final assessment of the programme is conducted by the Dutch Flemish Accreditation Organization (NVAO). In addition to the assessment, the programme conducts a development dialogue with the panel, discussing possible improvements.

On 8 April 2024, the Master's programme Environment and Resource Management was visited and judged as 'positive' by the panel. During the development dialogue, the panel and the programme discussed:

- How to create agency instead of apathy, while learning about some of the most pressing sustainability challenges of our time;
- How to maximize the benefits of diversity without compromising the educational experience for any student;
- How to stay relevant and unique in an increasingly crowded field of sustainability.
