Sample paper - CTA Advanced Technical.pdf

11:15 am

3. You are a tax manager in an accountancy firm and your client is Donald Graham.

Donald traded as a timber merchant from 1995 until his retirement on 30 September 2018.

Whilst in business, Donald owned two small warehouses from which he traded; both purchased many years previously. In anticipation of his retirement, he disposed of one of the warehouses and a small amount of the warehouse stock on 30 April 2018 to a competitor for use in their business, moving the remaining stock and the one staff member to his main warehouse. The capital gain arising on the disposal of the warehouse was £135,000. Donald continued to service his customers from his remaining warehouse.

When Donald ceased trading, his business held the following assets:

	Cost £	Accounts Net Book Value £
Customer list	-	-
Warehouse	275,000	470,000
Delivery van	20,000	12,500
Timber saw	4,000	2,500
Stock	30,000	30,000
Debtors	12,750	12,750
Cash	10,000	10,000

The customer list, delivery van, timber saw and stock were sold to another competitor business on 30 September 2018 for consideration of £340,000, which was divided as follows:

	£
Customer list	300,000
Delivery van	20,000
Timber saw	4,000
Stock	16,000

Donald made his only employee redundant on the same date, after working her six month notice period. As a gesture of thanks, he paid her £25,000 on termination, despite only being obliged to pay her statutory redundancy pay of £4,000.

Donald retained the warehouse and rented it out from 31 October 2018 until he received an acceptable offer of £500,000 in early 2019. He exchanged contracts for the sale of the property on 12 March 2019, with completion taking place on 12 April 2019.

Donald is a higher-rate taxpayer, and the above are the only disposals that will be made until 2020/21. He has not previously made any disposals which qualified for Entrepreneurs' Relief.
