ABOUT ADIT

It's never been a more exciting time to be an international tax practitioner. In an ever more connected world, global tax professionals have to stay on top of their game to take advantage of the challenges and opportunities that today's business offers. But how do you make sure you stand out?

Give yourself a clear advantage with ADIT.

ADIT, the international tax credential, is an advanced level qualification and annual certification package. Designed by a board of world-leading experts, it has been created to provide the robust foundation in international tax that today's professional needs to stand out from the crowd.

ADIT is a network of Affiliates, students and graduates.
They represent over 1,800 firms in more than 120 countries.

WHY ADIT?

Globally recognised – valued by firms and organisations in industries and sectors across the world, ADIT is acknowledged globally as the leading credential of its type.

Challenging and rigorous – ADIT is an indicator of your quality and status, enabling you to differentiate yourself from your peers by demonstrating your commitment, expertise and employability.

A wealth of resources and support – you will be able to access various resources designed to support you in your studies, and to help you progress in your career

Professional recognition and more – by joining as an Affiliate, you are demonstrating your commitment to the highest professional standards and highlighting your technical expertise. Affiliates enjoy a number of benefits designed to contribute to your global recognition.

Enhanced employability – acknowledged by Affiliates and students, as well as their employers, as a unique differentiator on their CVs and resumes.

Annually updated exams – modules are based on current tax law and emerging trends, ensuring students are up-to-date with fast-changing developments in international tax law.

Designed to blend academic rigour and practical application – as well as theory, ADIT focuses on ‘real life’ practical application of international tax principles. This ensures you’ll have a thorough academic understanding of international tax and can also apply those principles to your daily work with confidence.

FLEXIBILITY BUILT IN

The ADIT structure

MANDATORY MODULE	CHOOSE ANY TWO
PRINCIPLES OF INTERNATIONAL TAXATION	AUSTRALIA	HONG KONG
	BANKING	INDIA
	BRAZIL	IRELAND
	CHINA	MALTA
	CYPRUS	SINGAPORE
	ENERGY RESOURCES	TRANSFER PRICING
	EU DIRECT TAX	UNITED KINGDOM
	EU VAT	UNITED STATES
	EXTENDED ESSAY ON A TAX SPECIALISM OF YOUR CHOICE

Flexibility is at the heart of ADIT, both in the way it's structured and your study options.

To ensure you have a robust foundation knowledge, but can tailor ADIT to your particular requirements or ambitions, flexibility is built in. All students are required to take the 'Principles of International Taxation' module to attain a thorough grounding in the key issues of the moment, before focusing on the tax regimes of particular countries, or themes in international tax. If you have a very specific interest in a particular area of tax or jurisdiction, you can choose to write an extended essay in place of one of the modules.

Study in a way and at a pace that suits you

There are study options to suit everyone, from online to classroom learning to self-study. Whatever your preference, you'll find a method and providers that work for you. Find out more at www.tax.org.uk/adit/study-options

Works with your time commitments

Modules are examined twice a year around the world and are available to sit online. You can take all three modules at the same time, or one at a time – whatever suits you best.

You also have five years to complete ADIT. But if you find yourself at the end of that time with modules left to take, you simply need to re-register. To ensure that your knowledge is up-to-date, any modules passed more than five years previously will need to be retaken.

ADIT has been tremendously valuable in shaping my thought processes when advising clients. I better understand global business operations and the tax structures of multinationals, meaning I am better prepared to give tailored advice, relevant to my clients needs.
