WE DELETE BLOOD CANCER

in association with

Walmer Estate
Primary School

It is an honour to pay homage to the many doctors, clinicians, nurses and support staff who dedicate their lives to the fight against blood cancer and blood disorders. Walking this journey with patients cannot be an easy task, but your selfless commitment to this cause is the epitome of hope.

DKMS Africa shares the same goal to have a positive, lasting impact on the patients we serve. This book is a small gesture to support the young patients who are currently undergoing treatment - you are not alone. We will never stop fighting with you. You are what makes our work so meaningful, and you are the inspiration we need to keep pushing forward.

We would also like to thank Walmer Estate Primary School and the community for their support. Without you, this project would not have been possible. We are all #UnitedByHope.

Executive director at DKMS Africa: Alana James

At Walmer Estate Primary School, we believe in the importance of children supporting children. We participated in this project because it is meaningful. While as teachers we are responsible for teaching pupils' academics, we strongly feel that children should learn empathy as it goes a long way in progressing our society and ensures that we live in a kinder tomorrow. We want to thank DKMS for allowing us to participate in this initiative, and we hope that this book brings some encouragement to the patients receiving cancer treatment.

Acting Intermediate Senior Phase Department Head at Walmer Estate Primary: Ulfah Adams

The hopes and dreams of children are often simple – to laugh, play and be free, but for children fighting illnesses such as blood cancer and blood disorders, these dreams seem far out of reach. In solidarity with the many brave warriors fighting unimaginable battles, we dedicate this book to you. We hope that it brings some light to your journey.

In developing this book, the DKMS Africa team witnessed first-hand the kindness of the pupils at Walmer Estate Primary School. Their genuine acts of love and ubuntu towards fellow children, who they have never met was a rare lesson in humanity. This book is a collection of messages of support from these learners.

While many of us may never understand the journey of being a patient, we would like to let you know that we are all #UnitedByHope. We are rooting for you.
