Membership benefits

We work to win fair pay settlements for members and to protect your terms and conditions. Our efforts on behalf of members gives you a voice that is heard by employers at the highest level, working together for positive change where we can, and pushing back to defend your interests when they are threatened.

In addition to the collective benefits of union membership, strengthening the position of the whole workforce, we also offer a number of individual benefits. These include our freephone helpdesk which can advise you on your workplace rights, assist with any disciplinary or grievance hearings or put you in touch with a local rep.

TssA can also, where appropriate, refer your workplace problem on to our team of legal advisors who can take up your case at no cost to you. Our lawyers also offer free personal injury assistance to you and your immediate family, plus half hour free consultations and a range of other legal services at special rates.

As a member you can apply for a range of financial benefits including payments if you are off work due to victimisation, are recovering from serious illness or in the event of a workplace accident leading to death or disablement.
