How to use this EPA kit

Welcome to the Highfield End-Point Assessment kit for the Hospitality Manager – Food and Beverage Service Management apprenticeship standard.

Highfield is an independent end-point assessment organisation that has been approved to offer and carry out the independent end-point assessments for the Level 4 Hospitality Manager – Food and Beverage Service Management apprenticeship standard. Highfield internally quality assures all end-point assessments in accordance with its IQA process, and additionally all end-point assessments are externally quality assured by the relevant EQA organisation.

The EPA kit is designed to outline all you need to know about the end-point assessments for this standard and will also provide an overview of the on-programme delivery requirements. In addition, advice and guidance for trainers on how to prepare apprentices for the end-point assessment is included. The approaches suggested are not the only way in which an apprentice may be prepared for their assessments, but trainers may find them helpful as a starting point.

Key facts

Apprenticeship standard:	Hospitality Manager – Food and Beverage Service Management
Level:	4
On-programme duration:	Minimum of 12 months (typically 18 months)
End-point assessment window:	2 months

In this kit, you will find:

- an overview of the standard and any on-programme requirements
- a section focused on delivery, where the standard and assessment criteria are presented in a suggested format that is suitable for delivery
- guidance on how to prepare the apprentice for gateway
- detailed information on which part of the standard is assessed by which assessment method
- suggestions on how to prepare the apprentice for each part of the end-point assessment
- a section focused on the end-point assessment method where the assessment criteria are presented in a format suitable for carrying out 'mock' assessments

Introduction

Standard overview

Hospitality managers work across a variety of organisations including bars, restaurants, cafes, conference centres, banqueting venues, hotels and contract caterers. These managers generally specialise in a particular area. Despite this, their core knowledge, skills and behaviours are the same. All managers in this role should have a passion for exceeding customers' expectations.

Hospitality managers have a high level of responsibility and are responsible for fulfilling the business vision and objectives. This requires excellent business, people and customer relation skills. Hospitality managers are highly motivated and talented when managing people and applying specific industry skills. They also thrive on the customer facing nature of the role.

Specialist function overview

Food and beverage managers manage the delivery of business standards in a range of settings. This could include bars, restaurants, cafes, conference centres and hotels. They are responsible for overseeing and managing food and beverage operations, such as budgeting, menu design and team leadership.

On-programme requirements

Apprentices will be required to demonstrate continuous and sustained progress towards the end-point assessment by completing work as set out by their employer, demonstrating the knowledge and skills required in the relevant role. The period of learning, development and continuous assessment is managed by the employer, usually with the service of an education or training provider. Although learning, development and on-programme assessment is flexible, and the process is not prescribed, the following is the recommended baseline expectation for an apprentice to achieve full competence in line with the Hospitality Manager – Food and Beverage Service Management apprenticeship standard.

The role of the training provider is to support the apprentice with the on-programme delivery of the standard. They may also deliver some classroom-based (off-the-job) training to the apprentice to cover knowledge, as well as conducting on-the-job formative assessments and progress reviews to ready the apprentice for gateway and end-point assessment.

The training programme leading to end-point assessment should cover the breadth and depth of the standard, using suggested on-programme assessment methods that integrate the knowledge, skills and behaviour components and that ensure that the apprentice is sufficiently prepared to undertake the end-point assessment. Once the apprentice is deemed competent, the relevant section(s) of the standard should be signed off by both the on-programme end-point assessor and employer.

Throughout the period of learning and development, and at least every 2 months, the apprentice should meet with the on-programme assessor to review and record their progress against the standard. At these reviews, evidence should be discussed and recorded by the apprentice. Once the apprentice is deemed competent, the relevant section(s) of the standard should be signed off by the employer with the support of those involved in the learning and development. The process of maintaining a continuous assessment record is important so employers are confident that the apprentice has achieved full competence and is ready for end-point assessment. The continuous record is not a portfolio of evidence, but a practical record of what the apprentice can do following periods of training, development and assessment.

A minimum of 9 meetings are recommended to show ongoing competence across the entire standard, over a minimum of a 12-month period and prior to starting the end-point assessment. All apprentices must spend at least 12 months (typically 18 months) on-programme and at least 20% of their on-programme time completing off-the-job training.

Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in the EPA

Where AI has been used as part of the apprentice's day-to-day work and forms part of a project report, presentation, or artefact, it should be referenced as such within the work. AI must not be used to produce the report or portfolio.

Where AI has been used as part of a portfolio that underpins an interview or professional discussion or any other assessment method, it should be fully referenced within the portfolio.

Additional, relevant on-programme qualification

There are no mandatory qualifications for this standard. However, employers may wish to include relevant qualifications to help structure the on-programme delivery.

Readiness for end-point assessment

For an apprentice to be ready for the end-point assessments:

- the apprentice must complete the 20% of their weekly working hours as off-the-job training. Where the apprentice works more than 30 hours in a week, off-the-job training is capped at 6 hours
- the apprentice must have achieved
- Level 2 English and maths qualifications
- the apprentice's employer must confirm that they think their apprentice is working at or above the occupational standard
- the apprentice must submit a business project proposal for the business project within 14 days of the EPA being arranged. This must be approved by the end-point assessor (please see Assessing the business project for more information)
- the line manager (employer) must be confident that the apprentice has developed all the knowledge, skills and behaviours defined in the standard and that the apprentice is competent. To ensure this, the apprentice must attend a formal meeting with their employer to complete the Gateway Readiness Report
- the apprentice and the employer should then engage with Highfield to agree a plan and schedule for each assessment activity to ensure all components can be completed within a 2-month end-point assessment window. Further information about the gateway process is covered later in this kit

If you have any queries regarding the gateway requirements, please contact your EPA Customer Engagement Manager at Highfield Assessment.

Order of end-point assessments

There are 3 assessment components for the Hospitality Manager – Food and Beverage Service end-point assessment.

- The on-demand test may be taken at any time before the professional discussion.
- The business project must be submitted to Highfield a minimum of 7 days before the professional discussion takes place.
- The professional discussion must be the last assessment completed.
- All assessment methods must be completed within 2 months.

The Highfield approach

This section describes the approach Highfield has adopted in the development of this end-point assessment in terms of its interpretation of the requirements of the end-point assessment plan and other relevant documents.

Documents used in developing this end-point assessment

Standard (2018)

Hospitality manager / Institute for Apprenticeships and Technical Education

End-point assessment plan (2017 ST0229)

Assessment Plan - Hospitality Manager \(instituteforapprenticeships.org\)

Specific considerations

All the evidence criteria used within the end-point assessment have been written by Highfield and are based on the Hospitality Manager apprenticeship standard and assessment plan.

The assessment plan does not specify the number of marks specifically needed to pass the on-demand test, only that 70% must be achieved (85% for distinction). When transferring this to the marks required, Highfield found that this did not yield a whole number. Highfield has therefore rounded up the calculated mark to the next whole number and designated the following marks. This is to ensure apprentices will meet the percentage required for each grade.

The on-demand test is comprised of 2 sections.

- Core Hospitality Manager functions: apprentices must achieve 18 of the 25 core marks available to pass this component of the on-demand test
- Food and Beverage Service Management specialist pathway: apprentices must achieve 7 of the 10 pathway marks available to pass this component of the on-demand test

An overall total of at least 70% must be achieved for the apprentice to achieve a pass grade. This should comprise of the scores above for both the Core Hospitality Manager functions and the Food and Beverage Service Management specialist pathway.

Due to the nature of the business project, knowledge, skills and behaviours are not included in the standard. This is to allow apprentices to cover a topic that is relevant to their specialist pathway and employment setting. Criteria relating to the professional discussion may also be included in the business project. In this instance, this criterion will not be reassessed during the professional discussion. However, it should be noted that apprentices will be given the opportunity to achieve distinction criteria during the professional discussion, should they have achieved a pass grade in the project but not yet attempted the distinction criteria.

Gateway

How to prepare for gateway

After apprentices have completed their on-programme learning, they should be ready to pass through 'gateway' to their end-point assessment.

Gateway is a meeting that should be arranged between the apprentice, their employer and training provider to determine that the apprentice is ready to undertake their end-point assessment. The apprentice should prepare for this meeting by bringing along work-based evidence, including:

- customer feedback
- recordings
- manager statements
- witness statements

As well as evidence from others, such as:

- mid and end-of-year performance reviews
- feedback to show how they have met the apprenticeship standards while on-programme

In advance of gateway, apprentices will need to have:

- achieved Level 2 English
- achieved Level 2 maths
- produced the business project proposal

Therefore, apprentices should be advised by employers and providers to gather this evidence and undertake these qualifications during their on-programme training if they have not previously been achieved. It is recommended that employers and providers complete regular checks and reviews of this evidence to ensure the apprentice is progressing and achieving the standards before the formal gateway meeting is arranged.

The gateway meeting

The gateway meeting should last around an hour and must be completed on or after the apprenticeship on-programme end date. It should be attended by the apprentice and the relevant people who have worked with the apprentice on-programme, such as the line manager/employer or mentor, the on-programme trainer/training provider and/or a senior manager (as appropriate to the business).

During the meeting, the apprentice, employer and training provider will discuss the apprentice's progress to date and confirm if the apprentice has met the full criteria of the apprenticeship standard during their on-programme training. The Gateway Readiness Report should be used to log the outcomes of the meeting and agreed by all 3 parties. This report is available to download from the Highfield Assessment website.

The report should then be submitted to Highfield to initiate the end-point assessment process. If you require any support completing the Gateway Readiness Report, please contact your EPA Customer Engagement Manager at Highfield Assessment.

Please note: a copy of the standard should be available to all attendees during the gateway meeting.

Reasonable adjustments and special considerations

Highfield Assessment has measures in place for apprentices who require additional support. Please refer to the Highfield Assessment Reasonable Adjustments policy for further information/guidance.

ID requirements

Highfield Assessment will need to ensure that the person undertaking an assessment is indeed the person they are claiming to be. All employers are, therefore, required to ensure that each apprentice has their identification with them on the day of the assessment so the end-point assessor can check.

Highfield Assessment will accept the following as proof of an apprentice's identity:

- a valid passport (any nationality)
- a signed UK photocard driving licence
- a valid warrant card issued by HM forces or the Police
- another photographic ID card, such as an employee ID card or travel card

Amplification and guidance
C1: The importance of business value and objectives
Business vision, values and objectives

- Business vision - how the business sees itself and would like to be seen by customers, including the goals that a business sets for future success.
- Business values - the standards that the business sets in place for all to follow, for example, culture, integrity, team collaboration and customer focus.
- Business objectives - specific and measurable targets or steps required to achieve the overall business aims or vision. All objectives will be Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic and Timed (SMART) and may include targets for sales, costs, profitability, customer satisfaction, repeat business and service standards.

C2: The needs for performance targets and how these are commonly developed

Performance targets - the way in which progress or success can be measured. Key performance indicators (KPIs) support the profitability of the business. These are quantifiable measures used to evaluate the success of the business/business area in meeting objectives. New or revised targets may consider financial data, business projections and areas requiring improvement. KPIs could include:

- labour costs
- food costs
- stock value
- customer satisfaction
- sales per head
- take per staff hour (TPSH)
- guest spend per head
- gross profit on sales
- marketing and advertising costs
- bookings

C3: How trends are incorporated into forecasting

Trends, peaks and troughs - business fluctuations from highest capacity to the lowest levels that will change depending upon time of year, day, time of day, bookings and how these can impact the business:

- trends - how to keep up to date with customer preferences and hospitality trends/news, for example, news, alerts, TV, magazines, comparison with similar businesses and competitors
- peaks - the highest point of a business cycle
- troughs - the lowest point of a business cycle

C4: How a financial strategy is prepared, including the risks, constraints and implications for policies

Financial strategy - describes where and how money/time will be spent to support the achievement of business goals and objectives including any constraints and implications for policy. The strategy will show how financial projections will support business activities, the sources of income or funding, contingency plans and procedures to manage finances, including revenue. Constraints and risks, such as staff training and expertise, funding, customer feedback and spending, should also be considered, as well as the implications this will have on the business.

C5: The financial data required to support decision making and forecasting in a hospitality business

Forecasting - predicted spending based on information held over the estimated timescales. This also includes return on investment (ROI) and the resource/materials required to deliver and the tools and models used to support this, such as using balance sheets, profit and loss statements, cash flow statements and historical data to create a budget for the next period. Potential areas of waste or loss should also be considered.

C6: The concepts of regularity and propriety, and the need for financial accountability

Regularity - the need to ensure both compliance with legislation and consistency in procedures. Financial regularity requires procedures to be in place to accurately manage, track and report on business progress. This includes hiring new employees.

Propriety - appropriate or suitable standards of operation that are usually accepted within the hospitality industry.

Financial accountability - being held responsible for the achievement of financial objectives, improving profitability, cashflow forecasting, use of resources, control of spending and transactions, including the accuracy of records and income statements.

C9: The importance of having a clear strategy for the business

Business strategy - actions that a business would plan to achieve its overall goals and objectives: these can be short, medium or long term.

Marketing strategy – a plan or approach which aims to achieve specific marketing objectives. It outlines the actions that will be undertaken to promote products or services and includes elements such as target market, marketing objectives, budget and resource allocation, execution, monitoring and evaluation. A thorough marketing strategy is important for differentiation, target audience reach, consistency with brand building, resource allocation, competitive advantages and it provides the business with focus and direction.

C10: The principles and purpose of a contingency plan

Contingency plans - plans that can be implemented to minimise (or mitigate) possible risks should circumstances change radically.

C19: Legal and regulatory framework covering the hospitality industry

Legislative responsibilities (Legal and regulatory framework) - different legislation and regulations that must be adhered to and promoted, as well as their implications and applications to the way a business operates.

- The Consumer Rights Act 2015
- The Trade Descriptions Act 1972
- The Data Protection Act 2018
- The Licensing Act 2003 and age-related sales
- The Equality Act 2010
- The Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974
- Specific operational legislation relating to food production, including weights and measures and the Food Safety Act 1990.
- This also includes compliance, which is the act of adhering to the rules, laws and regulations that are relevant to the business and sector.
Examples of compliance include:
  - legal
  - internal
  - security and data
  - industry-specific compliance

C20: Legal and ethical principles governing marketing in the sector

Legal and ethical principles - code of conduct governing the professionalism that is expected when dealing with external parties and safe operation to avoid commercial and legal risk from misconduct by parties involved in the process. Ethical principles impact the governing market by promoting fairness, justice, trust, reputation, consumer protection, compliance, regulation, sustainability and corporate governance.

Knowledge, skills and behaviours

K1 Operating models - the different types of models that hospitality businesses use, such as owner operated, chain operated, or brand operated. These may include lease, managed or franchised. These models may vary depending on the size of the operation and the control held by the brand owner. They should be reviewed to ensure they are fit for purpose and meet the current business vision and values.

K2 Income streams - the diverse ways in which an organisation can bring revenue into the business from various activities and possible future opportunities.

K2 Cost centres - a business' different departments that generate or incur expenses. These may require separate budgets depending on the size of the business, for example, human resources and technical support departments.

K2 Areas for potential waste or loss - the areas requiring careful control or management to avoid additional costs or losses for the business.

- Potential losses include loss of income due to mismanaged bookings, customer no-shows, customer refunds or poor staffing levels.
- Waste includes wasted food or drink caused by over production/spillage/spoilage, customer returns, lack of portion control or poor stock control.
- Loss may be incurred due to equipment or resources being incorrectly used, not maintained, damaged or stolen.

S2 Resource allocation - managing the logistics of the business to ensure the correct resource is in the correct place at the correct time. This includes products, people and places.

S3 Effective communication - using the most appropriate way of communicating based on the situation and how these can be used to support team members, for example, written, online, face-to-face and types of communication, such as verbal, non-verbal, building rapport and listening skills, including active listening.

- Written, for example, staff magazines, newsletters, posters and notices
- Online, for example, intranet, internal chat systems and emails

K5 Standard business operating procedures - process and policy that are written down to outline the way in which the business works to achieve routine tasks.

S5 Operational processes - the step-by-step actions ensuring tasks or activities are achieved to support the vision and values of the business and refined to ensure profitability and efficiency.

K7 Consistent levels of service - ensuring that expected service methods, standards and levels are achieved every time.

K8 Technology - understanding how different types of technology can support the business, for example, tablet, QR codes and applications (apps). How it is changing the service levels/ styles offered to customers in an efficient and profitable way and its inherent dangers, such as data theft/loss.

K9 Environmental responsibilities - how the business acts to prevent and reduce the damage (and waste) it causes to the environment and/or community, for example, recycling process, waste management, environmental controls and emission controls.

K9 Social responsibilities - businesses' actions and their impact on the community, wider society and the world. This includes mitigating risks and unforeseen consequences as well as positive contributions to the welfare of society, for example, age verification, alcohol harm, noise and managing antisocial behaviour.

PD3: Give examples of how staff are managed effectively, including motivation and development of teams and individuals (K13, S10, S11, S12, S13, B11, B12, B13) PD7: Explain how and when they have been part of the effective planning and review in the team (K13, S10, S11, S12, S13, B11, B12, B13)	PD18: Provides mentorship to team members with measurable improvements to the performance of individuals and the team (K13, S10, S11, S12, S13, B11, B12, B13)
Amplification and guidance
C11: The content and importance of a risk management policy Risk management policy - includes the 5 key elements of risk assessment: risk identification, risk analysis, responding to the risk, mitigating (or minimising) the risk and risk monitoring. C12: The principles of effective risk management Risk management - process of identifying different types of hazards that may arise, as well as their possible causes and consequences, assessing the risk of harm occurring from hazards and putting in place appropriate controls to minimise risks from hazards. C13: The content and importance of a people strategy People strategy - a method of workforce planning, aligned to the business strategy, that focuses on attracting, retaining and growing the right people to achieve the best performance. C14: The principles of recruitment, induction and performance management, including supporting documentation and procedures such as job and person specifications

- Recruitment - recruitment process, competency based interviews, job description and person specification, CV, application form, the Equality Act 2010 (including protected characteristics), eligibility to work in the UK (the Immigration Asylum and Nationality Act 2006) and probationary period.
- Induction - ensuring employees integrate well into the organisation and understand what is expected in their role.
- Performance management - processes, continuous professional development (CPD), informal and formal disciplinary processes, performance management cycle, time management and staff attrition and turnover.

C15: The principles of effective listening, feedback and evaluation of team performance

Principles of effective listening - ensuring the other person is heard and knows you are listening. This includes active listening:

- stop talking and pay attention
- put the person at ease
- remove distractions
- paraphrase or repeat
- provide feedback
- face the speaker
- maintain eye contact
- listen to non-verbal cues
- do not interrupt

Team performance - how this can be improved using a range of strategies, including team training and development, feedback and support and team building exercises. Team development is used to ensure employees within a team work together effectively to maximise productivity.

C16: Principles of effective communication

Effective communication - using the most appropriate way of communicating based on the situation and how these can be used to support team members, for example, written, online, face-to-face and types of communication such as verbal, non-verbal, building rapport and listening skills.

- Written, for example, staff magazines, newsletters, posters and notices
- Online, for example, intranet, internal chat systems and emails
- Face-to-face, for example, staff forums, meetings, briefings and presentations

Effective communication skills also include being clear, honest, open and willing to answer questions and support employees, as well as choosing the most appropriate tone depending on the situation.

Knowledge, skills and behaviours

B10 Proactive risk management - planning in advance realistic contingency actions to reduce or minimise interruption to the business or service.

K11 Managing recruitment, induction, team development and succession planning - managing the staffing process to ensure sufficient numbers of suitably skilled and trained people are available at the right time to meet immediate and future business needs, often managed alongside human resource (HR) professionals.

K11 Succession planning - a tool used for managing change.

S11 Talent management planning - using the people strategy to ensure that people engaged are also empowered to develop alongside the business visions and objectives and can take on more responsibility or different roles.

B11 Leadership skills - such as commitment, communication, creativity, delegation, feedback, flexibility, motivation, positivity, responsibility, trustworthiness and organisation.

K12 Consistently communicate and engage - delivering the same key messages in all situations, avoiding fluctuation or changes. May involve setting times for communication and engagement activities to promote certainty, and repetition of messages to create a shared approach.

S13 Operational policy and procedures - ensuring all tasks or interactions are efficient, safe and within the framework of law by documenting a standardised approach to processes required.

B13 Empower - the act of turning over decision-making responsibilities and, where appropriate, authority, to employees and the impact this can have on them and the business.

Customers

Amplification and guidance
C7: The diverse target markets of hospitality businesses Target market - customers who have been identified as most likely buyers of a product based on their demographic. There are 4 major sections: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• geographic – customers are chosen based on where they live, work and travel</li> <li>• demographic - customers are chosen based on shared traits, such as age, pets, diet, income and gender</li> <li>• psychographic - customers are chosen based on their lifestyle, for example, interests and hobbies, social media use and personality</li> <li>• behavioural - customers are chosen based on their previous behaviour with the business, as well as their wants and needs</li> </ul>

C8: The purpose of market research

Market research - techniques used to gather information regarding the viability of a new product or service, or to better understand the needs of a target market so the business can evolve and stay ahead of competitors.

C17: Factors upon which customers measure performance and satisfaction

Performance and satisfaction - how customers evaluate the service they receive throughout their service journey will influence their overall level of satisfaction. They may evaluate service times and methods, service staff behaviours and interactions as well as food and drink quality and how problems were resolved, including a service recovery strategy.

C18: Principles of measuring customer satisfaction and planning for improvements

Principles of measuring customer satisfaction - measuring the extent of customer satisfaction requires an understanding of expectations followed by a method to evaluate their perception of both quality and value. Factors customers measure performance against includes requirements, expected service, costs, quality, social and environmental responsibility, communication and experience. Methods include surveys, reviews and repeat business.

C21: The difference between perception, reputation and performance

Perception, reputation and performance:

- perception - a subjective assessment by an individual of a service or product.
- reputation - the public perception of a business, it may be positive or negative and may not always match the actual situation.
- performance - how the business operates. This can be affected by perception and impact collaboration, communication, engagement and productivity.

Knowledge, skills and behaviours

K1 Customer service journey - a description of the path of customer interactions within the hospitality business including engagements with both products and services.

B14 Customer centred culture - the environment created to ensure all employees work with customer experience as their main focus point. To create a positive experience for every customer consistently.

K15 Service failure - recognising all the points within the process at which service levels and standards can fall and the expectations and experience of the customer compromised.

S15 Successful service recovery strategies - ensuring that when something goes wrong within the business, a plan is in place to make it right. This may include mapping the customer service journey to understand why it went wrong, understanding the types of customers (as well as their wants, expectations and needs) and utilising conflict management techniques to empower staff to make amends.

S15 Brand reputation - how everyone involved internally or externally feels about the products and services offered by the organisation.

S15 Business reputation - how the business is perceived against the competition. This may be driven by perceived qualities such as success, integrity, and whether it operates in a professional manner.

B15 Effective customer service resolutions - the ways in which customer service issues or problems will be resolved or remedied.

K16 Feedback – this can be taken from a range of sources.

- Customer - surveys, reviews, verbal feedback and questionnaires (online, social media, email, postal and in store)
- Manager - reviews, one-to-ones, appraisals and performance reviews
- Stakeholders - views of other departments and individuals involved in the business

K16 Competitive tool - using customer data and feedback to achieve a competitive advantage. Some tools are used to monitor the competition using technology, to gain insights and to learn from them.

S16 Improve quality of service - implementing changes or new approaches to enhance customer satisfaction and exceed expectations. Data and information leading to service quality improvement can be collected using various methods.

- Measurement factors
- Reviews
- Surveys
- Feedback
- Customer service

- Trends

K17 Hospitality marketing, sales strategies and techniques - the many ways a business may target its customers. It may include demographics, social media, promotions and events with the primary focus of increasing awareness and footfall of the brand and what it offers. Techniques for selling internally include examples such as upselling and suggestive selling.

K18 Champion the business - creating brand standards and motivating the team to operate to those standards and become ambassadors of the organisation. Creating the vision as to what sets the organisation ahead of the competition creating a unique selling point to encourage customers to spend across a diverse range of people.

K18 Comprehensive product/ service, brand and market knowledge - having a thorough understanding of the business and the factors which impact upon or influence the operation.

S18 Targeted promotion - raising awareness of a particular product or service that is aimed at and intended for a specific and defined group of potential customers, including weight, gender and geography.

Leadership

Amplification and guidance
C22: Leadership styles, their selection and application in a number of contexts
Management and leadership styles and skills - the ways in which a team leader or supervisor can provide guidance, direction and motivation to their staff and teams. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Leadership styles: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ transformational - leaders influence, inspire and motivate others by paying attention to their needs. They set high standards and encourage innovation</li> </ul> </li> </ul>

- democratic - leaders actively lead the team and involve them in decision-making processes, often by seeking feedback and input and encouraging discussion
- autocratic - leaders take little or no input from others in the team and hold most of the decision-making power. The leader expects compliance with their directives
- transactional - leaders focus on results and utilise rewards and punishments to motivate and direct the team. Rewards are given for compliance and high performance. Punishments and corrective actions are given for non-compliance and low performance
- laissez-faire - leaders are 'hands-off' and allow the team to choose their actions. It is the direct opposite of micromanaging. Team members are given autonomy and independence in their work

- Leadership theories and how they can be applied in different ways to differing circumstances.
  - Modern trait theory - also known as the Five-factor Model. This theory dictates that people have basic traits and the differing levels or strengths of these account for personality differences. Human personality is based on 5 fundamental dimensions, which are seen as the most significant aspects of personality.
    - Openness
    - Conscientiousness
    - Extraversion
    - Agreeableness
    - Neuroticism
  - Behavioural theory - this theory suggests that leadership qualities and behaviours can be developed or copied from other leaders through specific actions and behaviours. Studies include the Ohio State Studies (Consideration and Initiating Structure) and the University of Michigan Studies (Employee-Orientated and Production-Orientated).
  - Contingency theory - effective leadership is dependent upon the leader's characteristics and behaviours, as well as the situational context. Examples include Fiedler's Contingency theory, the Path-Goal theory and the Decision-making theory and the Situational Leadership theory.
  - Full range theory - the Full Range Leadership Model (FRLM) relates different leadership styles and focuses on the behaviours of leaders towards their team, believing these behaviours can be developed and refined over time.

- Leadership skills:
  - commitment
  - communication
  - creativity
  - delegation
  - feedback
  - flexibility
  - motivation
  - positivity
  - responsibility
  - trustworthiness
  - organisation

C23: Principles of motivation

Motivation - setting clear objectives and monitoring progress, providing supportive feedback, providing opportunity for self-development and recognising and rewarding successes. This includes championing the business by motivating team members and encouraging them to operate to brand and business standards, therefore becoming ambassadors for the business.

C24: Principles of effective change management

Effective change management:

- understanding the need for change
- communicating
- evaluating
- implementing
- innovating

- planning, for example, succession, contingency, strategic, consultation
- recognising comfort zones
- resistance and fear of change and why this may occur
- types of change, for example, developmental, incremental, process, structural, system and transformational/radical
- consequences when changes are not well managed, for example, high employee turnover, increased complaints, fewer suppliers, inadequate or poor service, difficulties recruiting employees and confusion or dispute within the business.

C25: Principles of empowerment of team members

Empowerment - the act of turning over decision-making responsibilities and, where appropriate, authority, to employees and the impact this can have on them and the business, including relationship development, employees feeling valued, lower employee turnover and more open communication.

Knowledge, skills and behaviours

B19 High performance culture - a set of beliefs, behaviours and values upheld by employees, leading to a high level of company growth, results and how to create this.

K20 Implementation of change - when leading change, managers should effectively communicate compelling reasons for change, listen to feedback, set clear goals and produce an action plan. Any resistance to change will require mentoring, training and support for individuals and teams. Progress and the effectiveness of implementation will be monitored.

K20 Stakeholders - anyone who can affect or be affected by an organisation, strategy or project. Consider how the relationships are created, built and managed for success. Stakeholders can be internal or external.

- Internal stakeholders include employees, project managers, the board of directors and shareholders.
- External stakeholders include suppliers, investors, clients/customers and partner organisations.

S20 Business objectives - specific achievements that a business may use to measure success.

S20 The impact of change on stakeholders - different stakeholders will be impacted in a variety of ways and to different extents by change and all stakeholders will need to be informed of the impacts and encouraged to support change. How the need for change is communicated and handled will vary but sensitivity will be required where stakeholders are emotionally or financially affected.

K21 Ethos - how a person is guided by their own beliefs, drive and moral ideas. Embracing the idea that all individuals are different. This can affect the way a person thinks about a work life balance.

K21 Diverse and inclusive culture - valuing and recognising that everyone is an individual with different values, beliefs and ideas. These could include religious or cultural beliefs. To ensure that as an individual everyone is included as part of a working team and business environment, and that not everyone will agree with ideas, but can embrace differences of opinion.

K21 Social inclusion - ensuring access to all who may feel disadvantaged for whatever reason.

B21 Social responsibility - how we benefit those around us.

Business project

The information below pertains specifically to the business project. Due to the nature of the business project, knowledge, skills and behaviours (KSBs) cannot be specifically identified. Any KSBs or professional discussion criteria achieved in the business project will not be reassessed in the professional discussion. However, if pass criteria is achieved, and the distinction criteria has not yet been attempted, the distinction criteria can still be achieved.

Professional discussion

Criteria covered in professional discussion if specific criteria have been previously achieved in the business project, it does not need to be reassessed within the professional discussion.

SFB1: Ensure food and beverage service operation meets business / brand standard at all times through its staff, facilities, menus and equipment. Ensure the beverage offer complements menus and maximises sales, delivering a service that will enhance business opportunities, e.g. seasonal special offers, promoting a themed drinks menu to complement dishes

SFB2: Manage the storage and maintenance of food service equipment, accompaniments and beverage products to deliver the best result to customers and maximum profit to the business

BFB1: Demonstrate passion for high quality food and drink products and service

Amplification and guidance

FB1: Principles of matching food and beverages

Matching food and beverages - the process of combining food and drinks to enhance the overall dining experience. This includes:

- balance - seeking balance in textures, flavours and intensities to create a harmonious blend in which neither food nor beverage overpowers the other, for example, acidic balance, such as pairing acidic wine with acidic foods
- weight and intensity - lighter dishes are paired with lighter beverages, whereas heavier dishes can be paired with more intense, full-bodied beverages
- wines high in tannins paired with meals containing fat
- regional pairings - traditional or regional pairings that have been used for a long period of time, for example, pairing cheese and wine in European cuisines
- complementary and contrasting principles - choosing either of these will bring out unique characteristics:
  - complementary principle - selecting similar flavour profiles, for example, light bodied wine to go with light dish or a red wine to go with a rich, red meat
  - contrasting principle - selecting a wine that adds a contrasting flavour that works with the overall meal, for example, pairing spicy food with a sweeter beverage to balance heat or pairing spicy food with sweeter or sparkling wines

FB2: Maximising profit through sales of food and beverages

Maximising profit - this can be achieved in several ways, including:

- promoting food and beverage options throughout customers' visits and stays
- conducting market analysis and keeping up to date with market trends
- providing a customer-focused approach
- maximising the available space for customers to eat and drink
- employee training
- upselling products
- analysis and implementation of dynamic pricing
- increasing/ improving services such as take away and room service

FB3: Effective management of resources, and operations and FB4: Effective management of food and beverage service equipment and stock

Effective management - effective control of resources, operations, stock, equipment and staff. This includes:

- communicating upcoming operations using the most effective method of communication
- providing important information
- observing employees
- mentoring and leading team members
- checking and analysing documents and (both present and historical) data
- identifying areas for improvement and development
- making changes
- inventory checks
- maintenance schedules and preventative maintenance
- analysing data from bookings and seasonal patterns

FB5: Appropriate application of food and beverage service style

Food and beverage service operation and style:

- up-market, such as fine dining and silver-service
- casual dining, for instance, a bistro or family restaurant
- banqueting and event catering
- service styles include counter, cart, assisted, buffet, table, family and French

Knowledge, skills and behaviours

KFB1 Preparation methods - these could include, but are not limited to:

- deboning: detaching the flesh/meat from the carcass/bones by use of a boning knife in order to segment different sections of the animal
- coating: dipping the product in flour, egg wash and breadcrumbs (or another coating) in line with a recipe specification
- marinating: immersing meat, poultry, game and/or offal into an acidic and seasoned solution to tenderise and enhance the flavour
- smoking (cold): process of preserving meat, poultry, game and/or offal in an air and temperature-controlled (between 21 o C and 71o C) smoker which imparts flavour without actually cooking the animal
- smoking (hot): process of slow cooking meat, poultry, game and/or offal in an air and temperature-controlled (between 80 o C and 120o C) smoker which imparts flavour while fully cooking the animal
- tenderising: making the meat, poultry, game and/or offal more palatable by breaking down connective tissues within the animal
- trimming: removing excess flesh from the outer part of the fish while still maximising the expected yield or removing any excess vegetable protein while still maximising yield

KFB1 Cooking methods - these could include, but are not limited to:

- baking: a dry form of cooking whereby dough or batter products are cooked, without oil, in the oven, at a high temperature (temperature range of oven is circa 175°C to 200°C)
- boiling: a wet form of cooking whereby meat, poultry, game and offal is placed into a large quantity of liquid, often water, and cooked vigorously to 100°C
- frying (deep, shallow and stir): dry forms of cooking whereby vegetables are placed into amounts of oil, depending on the cooking method
- grilling: a dry form of cooking whereby fish or shellfish is cooked via radiated heat

- poaching: a wet form of cooking whereby meat, poultry, game and offal is placed into a liquid and is cooked. Temperature of the liquid is circa 75°C to 85°C
- roasting: a dry form of cooking whereby meat, poultry, game and offal is placed in the oven, with oil and cooked at a high temperature, circa 175°C to 190°C
- saut eing: a dry form of cooking whereby fish or shellfish is cooked in minimal oil to brown the surface and conducted heat cooks the product throughout
- sous-viding: involves meat, poultry, game and offal being placed in a sealed pouch, from which the air is removed, and the food being cooked for a sustained period of time at a carefully controlled temperature
- steaming: a wet form of cooking whereby fish or shellfish is placed over boiling water or via vapour to cook the item
- stewing: a wet form of cooking whereby meat, poultry, game and offal is immersed in a liquid and cooked in the oven for a sustained period of time

KFB1 Service methods - how food is delivered to customers, for example, via table service, counter service, buffet service or take away service.

KFB1 communication - using the most appropriate way of communicating based on the situation and how these can be used to support team members, for example, written, online, face-to-face and types of communication such as verbal, non-verbal, building rapport and listening skills.

- Written, for example, staff magazines, newsletters, posters and notices
- Online, for example, intranet, internal chat systems and emails
- Face-to-face, for example, staff forums, meetings, briefings and presentations

Effective communication skills also include being clear, honest, open and willing to answer questions and support employees, as well as choosing the most appropriate tone depending on the situation.

KFB1 Benefits of food and beverage matching - enhances the flavour of both the food and the beverage, enhances the dining experience, showcases the restaurant food and beverage offerings and increases sales.

KFB1 Effective menu design - emphasises the most profitable dishes, highlights promotions and uses descriptive words.

KFB1 Seasonal promotions - highlights the special food and beverages marketed to customers at an appropriate time of year, for example, special dishes, deals or offers created to celebrate Valentine's Day. Promotions may be marketed in a variety of ways, including:

- creating special offers for new customers
- marketing directly to existing customers
- using the company website or social media
- sending emails to a subscriber list

KFB1 Food service styles - English or family service, American or plate service, French service, Gueridon service, Russian service, Silver service, buffet service, counter service and take away service.

SFB1 Business/ brand standard - in keeping with the restaurants image, for instance, style, ambiance, concept, decor, printed materials and pricing.

SFB1 Complements menus - flavours must harmonise, such as white wine complements fish and shellfish, red wine complements game and red meat, acidic drinks work well with sweet, oily/fatty and salty foods.

KFB2 Maintenance - preventative maintenance plans, contingency plans.

Assessment summary

The end-point assessment for the Hospitality Management – Food and Beverage Service apprenticeship standard is made up of 3 components:

1. A 90-minute on-demand test consisting of 35 scenario-based, multiple-choice questions
2. A 9,000 word (+/- 10%) business project which must be researched, written and submitted within the 2-month assessment window and a minimum of 7 days before the professional discussion takes place
3. A 90-minute professional discussion encompassing both the Core Hospitality Manager functions and Food and Beverage Service pathway, as well as apprentice reflection

As an employer/training provider, you should agree a plan and schedule with the apprentice to ensure all assessment components can be completed effectively.

Each component of the end-point assessment will be assessed against the appropriate criteria laid out in this kit and a grade allocated. The final grade will be determined based on the apprentice's combined performance in each assessment activity.

On-demand test

The on-demand test is comprised of 2 sections.

- Core Hospitality Manager functions: apprentices must achieve 18 of the 25 core marks available to pass this component of the on-demand test
- Food and Beverage Service Management specialist pathway: apprentices must achieve 7 of the 10 pathway marks available to pass this component of the on-demand test

It has 35 total marks available.

- To achieve a pass, apprentices must achieve an overall total of at least 25/35 (approximately 70%). This must be comprised of the scores stated above for both the Core Hospitality Manager functions and the Food and Beverage Service Management specialist pathway.
- To achieve a distinction, apprentices must achieve an overall total of at least 30/35 (approximately 85%). The apprentice must achieve a minimum of 18 out of 25 in the core section and a minimum of 7 out of 10 in the pathway section. However, the remaining marks may be achieved from either or both sections of the on-demand test.
- Unsuccessful apprentices will have scored less than 70% (24 or below).

The test may be delivered online or be paper-based and should be in a 'controlled' environment.

Business project

To achieve a pass in the business project:

- the project must meet all pass criteria

To achieve a distinction in the business project:

- the project must meet all pass and distinction criteria

Unsuccessful apprentices will not have demonstrated competence in all the pass criteria. This is overall or in either of the pass or distinction sections.

The business project should be conducted during work time and within the 2-month assessment period. During this time, the apprentice will undertake the research and writing/typing of the project in a quiet room with IT facilities (if required), within or away from the workplace.

Professional discussion

To achieve a pass in the professional discussion:

- all pass criteria must be covered for all relevant areas. Any professional discussion pass criteria that have already been met in the business project do not need to be re-assessed

To achieve a distinction in the professional discussion:

- all pass and distinction criteria must be covered for all relevant areas. Any professional discussion distinction criteria that have already been met in the business project do not need to be re-assessed

Unsuccessful apprentices will not have demonstrated competence in all the pass criteria.

The professional discussion may be conducted using technology, so long as fair assessment conditions can be maintained. Acceptable means of remote assessment include video conferencing or video calling. Remote assessment must include a 2-way visual and audio link.

Grading

The apprenticeship includes pass and distinction grades with the final grade based on the apprentice's combined performance in each assessment activity.

The assessment activities are not 'weighted' in percentage terms. However, to achieve a distinction overall, the apprentice must perform to distinction level in the business project. To reflect this, the score available for the business project is higher at distinction level.

The overall grade for the apprentice is determined using the method below.

Business project

Score:

- pass = 1
- distinction = 3

On-demand test

Score:

- pass = 1
- distinction = 2

Professional discussion

Score:

- pass = 1
- distinction = 2

If any assessment activity is failed it must be resat/retaken. Apprentices cannot achieve the apprenticeship without gaining at least a pass in every assessment method. Once the apprentice has achieved at least a pass in each assessment activity, the final grade will be calculated as follows:

Total score	Overall grade
0 - 2	Fail
3 - 5	Pass
6 - 7	Distinction

In summary, to achieve a pass overall, the apprentice must achieve a pass in each component. To achieve a distinction, the apprentice must achieve a distinction in the business project, as well as a distinction in 1 other component.

Retake and resit information

Should an apprentice fail 1 assessment activity, this should be resat as soon as the apprentice is ready, when practicable for the business and in line with Highfield policies, practices and procedures.

Should the apprentice fail 2 or more activities, a period of further training and development lasting between 1 and 3 months must take place before retaking the whole end-point assessment. When resitting/retaking an assessment activity the maximum grade that can be achieved for that activity is a pass. In the event of an exceptional circumstance causing the apprentice not to have had the full opportunity to undertake an assessment method, then they will not be graded for that method (meaning they are not given a fail or a pass). Instead, the assessment method will be re-arranged to take place as soon as possible. It is for the end-point assessor to decide if exceptional circumstances apply. This could be, for example, (but is not limited to) sudden ill health of the apprentice causing the assessment to breakdown. Feedback will be provided on the areas of failure and a retake checklist will need to be submitted when the professional review has taken place.

Apprentices who achieve a pass grade cannot resit or retake the EPA to achieve a higher grade. Resits and retakes are capped at pass.

Please note that both the on-demand test and the business project must be successfully completed before moving onto the professional discussion. However, should the professional discussion need to be resat or retaken, the business project criteria will not need to be resat if it has been previously passed, and the achieved criteria should still be referenced.

Assessing the on-demand test

The following areas of the Hospitality Manager – Food and Beverage Service Management standard will be assessed by a 90 minute on-demand test, consisting of 35 scenario-based, multiple-choice questions. Each question will have 4 answers to choose from, 1 of which is correct and worth 1 mark. The on-demand test will be broken down into 2 parts.

Part A (Core Hospitality Management functions) will consist of:

- business
- people
- customers
- leadership

Part B will consist of:

- food and beverage service management

In each paper, questions will cover each of the areas above.

The test is divided into 2 sections:

- part A (core) has 25 questions
- part B (food and beverage service management) has 10 questions

To achieve a pass, apprentices must achieve an overall mark of at least 25/35 (approximately 70%). They must achieve a minimum of:

- 18 out of 25 in part A
- 7 out of 10 in part B

To achieve a distinction, apprentices must achieve a mark of at least 30/35 (approximately 85%).

Before the assessment

As an employer/training provider, you should brief the apprentice on the areas that will be assessed by the on-demand test.

The apprentice should complete a mock test in readiness for end-point assessment: a test is available to download from the Highfield Assessment website for this purpose.

Assessing the business project

The purpose of the business project is to give the apprentice the opportunity to demonstrate their wider understanding of the business they are working in and identify, investigate and evaluate how an improvement could be made to its operation.

The project should focus around exploring and solving an issue, problem, challenge or opportunity within the apprentice's day-to-day role. It must examine how the operations of the specialist function can be improved as part of the wider organisation. The project should demonstrate how the apprentice has:

- understood the context of the business
- maintained an up-to-date knowledge of trends and developments in the hospitality industry/sector
- identified the need for the project, for example, related to customer feedback, cost efficiency, reputation of the business, increasing market share and increased productivity
- gathered and reviewed information
- developed realistic business recommendations

Written project

The project should follow a basic structure, which is outlined below, and be 9,000 (+/- 10%) words long. The project will involve researching information and making recommendations.

The project must be accompanied by the written submission sheet which is available to download from the Highfield Assessment website. This is to confirm that they are the author of the project.

The project should follow the structure below:

- Introduction and background:
  - Introduction, including how business fits into the hospitality industry
- Focus, aims and objectives:
  - Outline of challenge or opportunity
  - Aims and objectives with reference to the specialist function
- Research:
  - Evidence of consultation and engagement of stakeholders
  - Evidence of effective research
  - How the apprentice keeps up to date with trends/changing industry
- Findings:
  - Identification of measurable improvements and benefits to the wider organisation
- Conclusions and recommendations:
  - Analysis of costs and commercial context

- Legislative requirements explained and adhered to
- Justified recommendations for implementation
- Proposed timeframes for implementation

The apprentice should be given sufficient time during working hours and within the 2-month end-point assessment window, to undertake the research and writing of the project. This should be a minimum of 40 hours. The apprentice should also be allocated a quiet room with IT facilities (if required), within or away from the workplace.

Once the project is completed, the apprentice is required to submit the report to the end-point assessor no less than 7 days in advance of the professional discussion.

- To achieve a pass in the business project, the apprentice must demonstrate competence against all the grading criteria for a pass
- To achieve a distinction in the business project, the apprentice must demonstrate competence against all the assessment criteria for a pass and a distinction

Should the professional discussion need to be resat or retaken, the business project criteria will not need to be resat if it has been previously passed. The achieved criteria should still be referenced within the professional discussion.

Before the assessment

It is recommended that the business project proposal is completed on the Business Project Proposal form provided at gateway, however alternative forms developed by training providers are permissible. This should take the form of a 2-page synopsis. Highfield will sign off the proposal at gateway to ensure the proposed project has the potential to meet the business project criteria. This will be done within 7 days of agreeing the EPA schedule. If, for any reason, the proposal is not approved at this stage, a revised proposal should be sent to the employer and Highfield within 7 days. The Business Project Proposal form can also be found on the Highfield website.

The proposal should include identification of the problem (or issue / opportunity / challenge) that is to be explored in their project and the intended approach to research and making recommendations.

Highfield will make the following considerations when determining whether the project meets the requirements.

- Does the project focus on a problem, opportunity or idea on which the apprentice can develop realistic business recommendations for improvement?
- Will the apprentice be able to measure improvements and/or benefits to the organisation?

- Does the project give the apprentice the opportunity to access the highest attainable grade for the business project?
- Does the project give reference to improving the specialist function?
- Does the project proposal outline the intended approach to research and making recommendations?

Business project mock assessment

It is the employer/training provider's responsibility to prepare apprentices for their end-point assessment. Highfield recommends that the apprentice completes a mock business project in preparation for the real thing. The most appropriate form of a mock business project will depend on the apprentice's setting and the resources available at the time.

In designing a mock assessment, the employer/training provider should include the following elements in their planning:

- the apprentice should be given a relevant amount of time to complete their mock business project.
- the business project should be expected to total approximately 9,000 words (+/- 10%). However, each section of the business project may be split into more accessible sections.
- consider allowing the mock assessment to be available to other apprentices, especially if it is not practicable for the employer/training provider to mark and assess a separate mock business project for each apprentice.
- ensure that the apprentice's performance is assessed by a competent trainer/assessor, and that feedback is shared with the apprentice to complete the learning experience. This should also be in line with assessment criteria outlined in the kit.
- follow the structure set out above in the written project section to ensure consistency and familiarity.

Business project criteria

The apprentice can achieve a pass grade in the business project by meeting all the business project pass assessment criteria in the table below. A distinction can be achieved if all pass and distinction criteria are met.

Apprentices should prepare for the business project by considering how the criteria can be met and by reflecting on their past experiences.

Business project
Pass criteria	Distinction criteria
Introduction and background
BP1: Explain how the business fits into the hospitality industry, both from a local and national perspective BP2: Demonstrate an awareness of and understanding for the need for deadlines BP3: How the apprentice keeps up to date with trends and the changing industry	BP12: Outline the current situation which has led to the identification of a challenge or opportunity
Outline, aims and objectives
BP4: Outline the problem, challenge or opportunity identified	BP13: Provide detailed aims and objectives for the proposal, linking to the current situation
Identification of improvements, consultation, legislation, and research
BP5: Identify how the potential changes would lead to measurable improvements and benefits to the department and wider hospitality business BP6: Consult relevant stakeholders (e.g. customers, team members, managers) to inform the results and recommendations and explain how their feedback informed the outcomes. BP8: Identify applicable legislation and ensure the proposal complies where necessary	BP14: Identification of measurable improvements and benefits to the organisation BP15: Review the proposal to ensure it meets organisational and legal requirements BP19: Show a range of research has been used effectively, including obtaining information from stakeholders, such as team members, management, suppliers or customers
Analysis of cost and findings
BP7: Provide a detailed analysis of costs associated with the proposed recommendations	BP16: A thorough analysis of costs and benefits of the recommendations in the short, medium and long term BP17: Critically analyse the proposal to ensure it meets organisational and legal requirements BP18: Include data acquired using qualitative and quantitative research

Conclusion, recommendations, and proposed timeframe
BP9: Make clear recommendations for implementation BP10: Concise validation and justification of recommendation BP11: Set out proposed timeframes for implementation	BP20: Make detailed recommendations for implementation, including timings and potential costs BP21: Comprehensive link from the project into the medium term strategy of the organisation BP22: Detailed recommendations for implementation BP23: Detailed validation and justification of recommendations

Assessing the professional discussion

The professional discussion is a 90-minute, structured discussion between the apprentice and the end-point assessor. It will include areas of the standard planned in advance to allow the apprentice to prepare fully for the discussion and must be appropriately structured to draw out the best of the apprentice's energy, enthusiasm, competence and excellence.

It allows the end-point assessor to ask the apprentice a minimum of 30 questions in relation to:

- coverage of the standard (a minimum of 5 questions per core section plus 5 questions on specialist function). This includes:
  - business
  - people
  - customers
  - leadership
  - food and beverage service
- reflection on the superior, peer and direct report feedback (a minimum of 5 questions)

Some questions will concentrate on knowledge recall, whereas others will require the apprentice to consider a course of action to a problem based on 'real-life' workplace activity in line with the identified requirements of the standard.

Before the professional discussion

Before the professional discussion (but within the assessment window) the employers/ training providers should:

- plan the professional discussion to allow the apprentice the opportunity to demonstrate each of the required standards
- ensure the apprentice knows the date and time of the assessment
- ensure the apprentice knows which criteria will be assessed (outlined on the following pages)
- encourage the apprentice to reflect on their experience and learning on-programme to understand what is required to meet the standard
- be prepared to provide the apprentice with clarification and signpost them to relevant parts of their on-programme experience in preparation for the discussion
- provide the apprentice with a template (produced by Highfield) to gather constructive and objective feedback from the end-point assessor.

Feedback

The template should be used to gather feedback regarding the apprentice's competence across the areas listed below. This will be sent either electronically or by post from Highfield to the apprentice. The apprentice will gather feedback from the below.

- A superior - a higher manager, area manager, human resource manager, company owner or director. If the apprentice does not have a superior, a main stakeholder, for example, prime customer, supplier or business associate, may be used instead.
- A peer - someone of the same level in the organisation, or in a similar organisation where a working relationship can be demonstrated.
- A direct report - a member of the apprentice's team for whom they have line management responsibility.

The template will set out the areas that need to be covered. The feedback itself is not marked, but used by the apprentice to reflect on their competency in the below areas:

- business
- people
- customers
- leadership
- specialist function specific criteria
- behaviours (for the core and specialist function)

If the apprentice does not have a superior, a main stakeholder (for example, prime customer, supplier or business associate) may be used instead.

Completion of feedback

Once the apprentice has collected the feedback, a copy must be sent to Highfield (electronically or by post) a minimum of 5 working days before the professional discussion.

Conditions of professional discussion

The professional discussion will be conducted in a 'controlled environment'. This should be a quiet room, away from the normal place of work.

The professional discussion may be conducted using technology. Acceptable means of remote assessment include video conferencing/ video calling. This must include a 2-way visual and audio link.

Structure of professional discussion

A minimum of 30 questions must be asked to cover all the criteria requirements and give the apprentice a full opportunity to demonstrate the requirements for a distinction. However, the number of questions may vary according to the breadth and depth of answers given (and the number of follow on questions required).

To achieve a pass in the professional discussion, the apprentice must demonstrate competence against all the pass criteria.

To achieve a distinction in the professional discussion, the apprentice must demonstrate competence against all the assessment criteria for a pass and a distinction.

Unsuccessful apprentices will not have met all relevant pass criteria.

The professional discussion will recognise areas that have already been covered in the business project so as not to re-assess an area in which the apprentice has already demonstrated competence.

Should the professional discussion need to be resat or retaken, the business project criteria will not need to be resat if it has been previously passed. The achieved criteria will still be referenced within the professional discussion.

Professional discussion mock assessment

It is the employer/training provider's responsibility to prepare apprentices for their end-point assessment. Highfield recommends that the apprentice experiences a mock professional discussion in preparation for the real thing. The most appropriate form of a mock professional discussion will depend on the apprentice's setting and the resources available at the time.

In designing a mock assessment, the employer/training provider should include the following elements in its planning:

- the mock professional discussion should take place in a suitable location.
- a 90-minute time slot should be available to complete the professional discussion, if it is intended to be a complete professional discussion covering all relevant standards. However, this time may be split up to allow for progressive learning.
- consider a video or audio recording of the mock professional discussion and allow it to be available to other apprentices, especially if it is not practicable for the employer/training provider to carry out a separate mock assessment with each apprentice.
- ensure that the apprentice's performance is assessed by a competent trainer/assessor, and that feedback is shared with the apprentice to complete the learning experience. Mock assessment sheets are available to download from the Highfield Assessment website and may be used for this purpose.

- use structured 'open' questions that do not lead the apprentice but allows them to express their knowledge and experience in a calm and comfortable manner. For example:

Business

- Explain why it is important to ensure procedures are followed in your organisation.
- How does the hospitality department meet regulatory requirements?
- Explain, using examples, how you effectively manage the team on a daily basis.
- Describe a time you have made recommendations to improve the efficiency of the organisation?
- Explain how you have reflected and acted on the feedback you have received regarding your business knowledge.

People

- How have you managed team members effectively?
- Give an example of when you have developed the team's knowledge or skills.
- Describe a time you have used motivation to manage staff.
- Describe a time when your team have carried out effective planning and how this was undertaken.
- Explain a time you have mentored a team member and the impact this had.

Customers

- How do you support the development of a customer-centric culture?
- Describe a time you have had to apply your knowledge of customer diversity.
- How does your department meet the needs of the business?
- Explain how your department provides support for customers with disabilities.
- Explain how your department meets customer expectations.

Leadership

- Describe a time you have identified and acted upon areas for improvement.
- How have you effectively sought feedback from managers?
- How have you sought feedback from customers?
- Explore how you reflected on the feedback you received from a superior.
- What impact has stakeholder feedback had on you and your team's performance?

Food and beverage service management

- Give examples of different service styles and how to effectively apply this information.
- Reflect on how your management and maintenance of drinks products have impacted the business.
- Explain how menus have allowed you to meet business and brand standards.
- How have you contributed to customer service using effective storage and maintenance?
- Explain, with use of examples, how you show passion for high quality food and drink service.

Feedback-based questions

- Using feedback from your supervisor, reflect on how you ensure customer satisfaction.
- Using your feedback, reflect on how you have developed an individual's knowledge or skills.
- Reflect on how you have managed team members based on the feedback you received.
- Using the feedback provided, reflect on how you have monitored customer satisfaction.
- Explain how you have reflected and acted on the feedback you have received regarding your knowledge of customer feedback.
- Using the feedback as a reflective tool, how have you sought feedback from senior leaders and how has this impacted your role?
- Reflect on your food and beverage service knowledge using the feedback provided.

Professional discussion criteria

Throughout the 90-minute professional discussion, the end-point assessor will review the apprentice's competence in the criteria outlined below.
