Working in the health and social care sectors

The health and social care sectors currently employ approximately 1 in 10 of the working population in the UK. These sectors cover a range of services across many organisations within the public, private and voluntary sectors, including hospitals, hospices, nursing, care homes and many other types of provision.

The programme's structure

As an assistant practitioner your apprentice will work as part of a health and social care team, they will have direct contact with patients, service users or clients providing high quality and compassionate care. While on-programme, they will be supported by their tutor who will review their progress during the 18 to 24 months against the standard to ensure they are prepared for end-point assessment.
