STORY STARTER

Here is an extract from Monster Doctor by John Kelly. What do you think happens next? Use the space below to write a short story about Ozzy's first visit to the Monster Doctor surgery.

We stopped by a rather ramshackle-looking building.

'And here we are!' Morty the zombie announced. 'The surgery.'

It was a detached, tall and very long building somewhere between four and eight storeys high. It had dozens of windows, but none of them matched. Some parts looked as if they'd fallen down in the past and been put back up again, but in completely the wrong place, or upside down.

'Watch out!' said Morty, and nudged me to the right with his shoulder.
