

England Age Group – 2022 Nominations Guidance Document – Coaches

Firstly, thank you for your interest in the nomination process for the 2022/23 England Age Group programmes. In accessing this information, it is assumed you have already read the Open Trials general information and have come through to this page as a coach who is now seeking to nominate a player for England Age Group open trials.

The purpose of the talent system is to support sustained success of elite domestic and national teams, by finding and developing players who demonstrate the qualities to progress to senior elite level. This means developing a system which is accessible to as many players as possible and ensuring selection decisions are based on a combination of current performance level and future potential.

For most players, nomination may be their first experience of an England Age Group activity. Whatever the future holds, and whether they are selected for further involvement in the England Age Group programme or not, we are passionate about it being a positive experience for every player. So that we can support this, we would ask you to commit a small amount of focused time on the resources below and familiarise yourself with the nomination process outlined. Before completing a player nomination please:

1. Read this guidance document fully. We suggest you note down the answers to all of the player qualities before starting the nomination form. The full form can be found in PDF format here.
2. In addition, nominating coaches may find it useful to familiarise themselves with the Talent System Framework against which the Nominations Profile is aligned.

The Talent System Framework document can be accessed here.

At this stage we would like to acknowledge that we are continuing to evolve a new, more open method to identify players for England Age Group activity.

Some key points to be aware of:

- Only players nominated through the official nominations channel will be considered for training days. Coaches are required to complete one form per player. Any nominations not fully completed will not be considered.
- Please note players involved in Player Pathway activity in 2021-22 will not be considered for Open Trials – This includes all Performance Centre players and those who were listed for Academy Centre or Development Centre.

- We are inviting U16 nominations for those born 2007, and U18 nominations for those born 2005 & 2006. We will not consider players born before 2007 for the U16 nomination.
- Coaches should hold dialogue internally before nominating a player from their environment, avoiding multiple nominations for the same player from one environment.
- While considering future potential is important when nominating players, there are less than 30 England Age Group places per age group per gender so, players should be demonstrating a high level of competency in their current performance.
- The nomination training days and the England Age Group programme will support and challenge players. In nominating a player, you should be confident that, with our support, this player is well placed to thrive in a supportive yet challenging international environment.
- It will be at your, the coach's, discretion if you choose to tell players they have been nominated. Nomination is not a guarantee of a player being taken forward to trials. We therefore advise coaches to share information with caution and to manage expectations.
- If you wish to query an individual, please contact dieter.hill@englandhockey.co.uk

Examples of appropriate rationale for nominations:

- Player is a multisport athlete who hasn't been able attend pathway activity due to time pressure but is beyond their peers in current performance
- Player has a relatively low hockey training age in comparison to their peers but is already ahead of their peers in current performance

Open trials should not be used to facilitate the following:

- Provide an "experience" to players who are not yet ready for this level of stretch
- To provide content for a social media exercise which you feel will enhance the profile of your club or school
- To placate parents who may be placing pressure on you to nominate

If you are unsure if you should be nominating a player or not, please get in touch with your contact within the talent system for some advice. If you are not sure who to contact, please email dieter.hill@englandhockey.co.uk

Nominations

We invite you to nominate players by completing the Talent Nomination Form. This will take approximately 15 minutes per player. Only fully completed forms will be accepted. You will be required to provide the following information:

- Your email address
- Your telephone number
- Please provide the full name of the nominated player
- Nominated player's date of birth
- Email address for the nominated player's parent or guardian
- Telephone number for the parent or guardian
- Home postcode of the player you are nominating
- School of the nominated player
- Club of the nominated player play (if applicable)
- The player's preferred playing line

The form asks coaches to consider a broad profile of the player across technical, tactical, mental, teamship and physical qualities.

Current performance and future potential will both be considered. The detail of these qualities and how to rate them is contained in the nominations form at the appropriate point.
