

IVEAGH SUITE

A meeting room where story, art and beauty inspire

A place apart

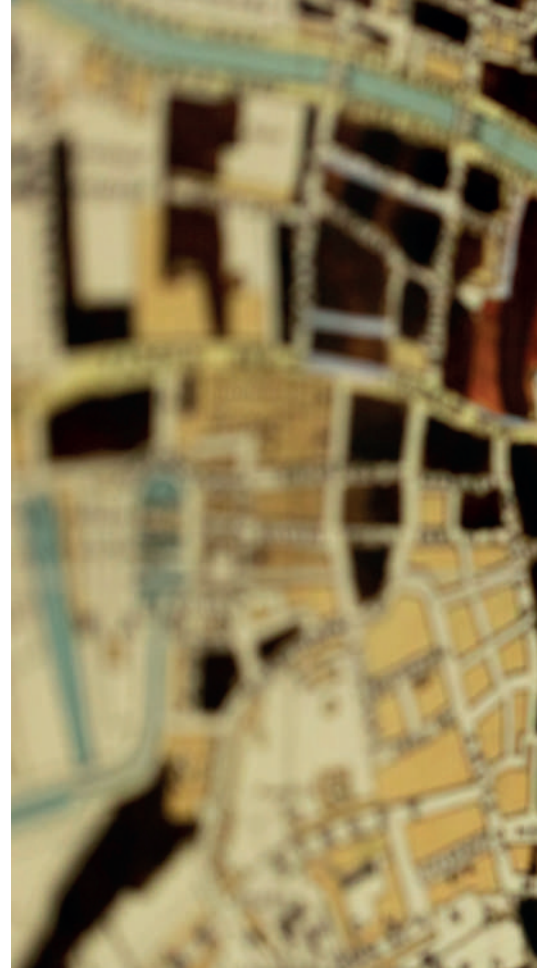

Close to the beating heart of Dublin's vibrant fair city, is a tranquil Victorian park, the Iveagh Gardens. It is our neighbour and our muse, from which The Iveagh Suite takes its name. With this garden, The Iveagh Suite shares a sense of comfort and grace; of being simultaneously at the centre of everything and outside of time.

The Iveagh Suite at Conrad Dublin is located at the corner of St Stephen's Green, next to the National Concert Hall, and a short walk to the City Centre's top attractions. Rich in story and detail, The Iveagh Suite is a unique, memorable venue for your meeting experience.

Inspired by the work of Oscar Wilde

Unconventional Irish writer Oscar Wilde had a love of beauty and a deep sense of what is right. He married these sensibilities in his 1890 work, Dorian Grey. It tells the story of a man who made a Faustian pact. He stays young and beautiful, while in his attic, a portrait of him grows old and ugly; it is a true picture of his debauched character. Wilde's Victorian audience was suitably divided about his work. Where some saw only depravity, others saw true morality.

The Iveagh Suite contains art and details inspired by Dorian Grey. This is a layered and fascinating story to engage your guests.

Opulence, intriguing alcoves and a secret garden

Warm timber, stylish leather and rich velvet subtly reference the richness of the world of Dorian Grey. Our solid and centring boardroom table comfortably seats 25. The suite also features side alcoves, with a design and artworks inspired both by Wilde's great novel and by the beautiful adjacent Iveagh Gardens. Here you can break away from the central dialogue, hold smaller group meetings, pause to reflect or simply enjoy a recess with delicious refreshments.

The Iveagh Gardens, known as Dublin's 'secret garden', can be entered from the Conrad Hotel. Once the lawn of an Earl, its history dates back 300 years, however it is now laid out according to a plan from 1865; this is a true Victorian garden. Take a break from your meeting to stroll to the fountains, explore the rosarium or the maze and return to The Iveagh Suite renewed.

A meeting of old world grace and state-of-the-art technology

The technology we provide is discrete but pervasive. You see and experience only a beautiful room, yet on hand is a LG 98" 4K professional monitor, audio system (with both table and handheld microphones), TV signal, connection to main monitor via HDMI/VGA (table and podium) and click-share and iPod connection.
